and muslims die.
they die with every single insult,
with every single “go back to your country”
while daggers are being stared into their backs.

they die with every “allahu akbar”
that’s screamed at them mockingly,
with every mosque burned to the grounds,
with every sarcastic “in shaa Allah” spit into their faces.

they die with every uighur getting killed in concentration camps,
with every genocide in india and myanmar.

and we die and die and die
and we keep on dying
because this is a never ending cycle
and they keep on killing us,
they dont stop with the insults,
with the excuses and the murder.

and we die.
